

Dear FCC,I understand that my satellite radio service is under attack from well-paid lobbyists, much the same way as my satellite TV service was recently from the cable companies.

I respectfully urge the FCC to reject the National Association of Broadcaster's petition 04-160 and to support XM and Sirius radio's ability to provide the kind of programming that users like me demand and deserve.

This is a Republican administration and I would have thought by now you would have learned to keep your meddling hands OUT of the free enterprise system. I've never seen the constitutional amendment that gives Congress or the executive branch the power to protect the people from the evils of satellite radio. This is a question of consumer choice and the freedoms protected by the First Amendment.

-Michael S. Elliott
Gardner, KS